

Wanda Shao, DO

Education & Training:

Dr. Shao is a board-certified physician in Psychiatry and Forensic Psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Dr. Shao received her medical degree from Midwestern University and completed her psychiatry residency at the University of Arizona. She then completed a fellowship in forensic psychiatry at Emory

Experience:

In addition to her current position as a telehealth psychiatrist with Avera, Dr. Shao is an inpatient psychiatrist for the indigent, severely mentally ill, and incarcerated population in Georgia. She specializes in forensic psychiatry and routinely conducts competency to stand trial and criminal responsibility evaluations. As an associate adjunct professor at Emory University College of Medicine, she is also heavily involved in teaching and training residents and fellows.

About Me:

I love dogs! I also enjoy painting, dancing (poorly), exercising, and eating. My primary language is English, but I'm also fluent in Mandarin.